Slight Return of Infection Indicated In Article In London Daily Express

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 28.—The king, after more than five weeks of serious illness, caused anxiety to his doctors today by his failure to show the improvement which had been expected. After a mid-day bulletin which said the king had improved after a fair night, an official statement was issued at 3:05 p. m., announcing that "there was no change in the king's condition this afternoon."

The first disturbing bulletin in more than a week was issued last night, when the doctors announced that the king was not maintaining his strength satisfactorily. After a consultation of five physicians today, it was announced that while the local infection in the king's right lung had improved, his general condition did not show the same progress.

Lord Dawson of Penn., who spent four hours at Buckingham palace this morning, made another visit of half an hour this afternoon. When he left, the announcement that there had been no change was made.

The Prince of Wales remained at the palace last night longer than usual. He did not leave until 11 p. m., only a few minutes before Lord Dawson of Penn.

Another bacteriological examination of the king was made yesterday by Dr. L. E. H. Whitby.

The medical expert of the Daily News in commenting on last night's bulletin said the relapse was only a temporary halt in the progress toward recovery. He said it indicated that the king had merely had a bad day, but that

EXTRA SESSION IS NECESSARY BORAH ASSERTS

Senators Urging Postponement of Action on Farm Relief Until March

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(INS)—President-elect Hoover will not be able to avoid calling a special session of congress. This was the consensus of day Senators Borah (R) of Idaho and other senators who have been urging postponement of farm relief legislation until an extra session after March 4. It was Borah who, during the campaign, induced Mr. Hoover to promise a special session if a satisfactory farm bill was not passed this winter.

Family Life Waning

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Family life is racing towards decadence at a rapid rate, Dr. W. F. Ogburn of the University of Chicago, told the American Sociological society in convention here. Dr. Ogburn said that originally there were seven ties that held families together—affection, economics, religion, protection, recreation, education and family status.

"There remains of these original ties now only the tie of affection which really binds," he said. "The other six, while not entirely gone, are nearly so and it is only that first one which holds most families together now."

"Those same seven ties held the primitive, prehistoric family together. In the middle ages those ties became stronger and the graphic line went up. It remained up for a time and then slumped and we are now far down below where we were in primitive times."

Senator Brookhart (R) of Iowa, another Hoover campaigner, expressed the same opinion.

Borah related his views as follows:

"There are three problems—The reduction of marketing costs in the home market; the handling of the surplus; and tariff relief to keep out foreign competition. One farm bill, like the McNary measure can not possibly solve the problem."

"The farmer today is paying 60 cents on the dollar to market his crops in this country. This is his real immediate problem. The remedy is to build up the home market and second to place his products in the home market without letting him be robbed. If that can be accomplished, it very nearly settles the farm problem."

"The whole problem, however, cannot be settled by a single bill. There are a half dozen different phases. Canadian railroads give preferential rates to farmers. We might do something about providing preferential rates to American farmers during the marketing season. Then there is the surplus problem and the tariff protection that is necessary to protect the home market. All these phases cannot be handled this winter so that's the reason why there must be a special session."

Borah maintained the McNary bill, which Secretary of Agriculture Jardine approved, would not settle the farm problem. He said it related only to the major crops and that the other crops have a greater marketing value.

"No attention is given to perishable crops," he said. "We must reduce the middle man's profits on such crops and we must give the farmer some control over his product until it reaches the consumer. Now if he ships his perishable crop to a market 1000 miles away, he loses all control and must accept any price the commission man offers—or else his product perishes on a side track."

"We probably will have to experiment with some form of relief. Certainly the problem cannot be settled offhand. It requires 'real study and careful experiment.'"

"As for the tariff, we know what we can do. The relief is definite. There is no reason to wait until next fall. If the manufacturers don't want tariff revision now, they don't have to ask for it. The farmers do and it has been promised them and congress must do it this spring."

"Would passage of the McNary bill now and a special session in September for tariff reform, satisfy your group?" he was asked.

"Certainly not," he replied.

Brookhart said:

"We are assured of a special session. The house will not act on farm relief at this session. We want Hoover's brand and we want it while he's in the White House to guarantee it. As for the new McNary bill, I will fight it."

HUSBAND CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

CANTON, O., Dec. 28.—(UP)—Wilbur O. Heldman, Lorain furniture salesman, was charged with murder today in connection with the death of his wife, Margaret, who was shot to death after she confessed killing Bernard Fearn, Waco coal dealer.

Fearn, with whom Margaret admitted intimacies, was shot to death on the night of December 6. A week later Mrs. Heldman confessed and her husband bundled her in his car and carted for Canton to surrender her.

Enroute the gun woman was shot and killed. Heldman claimed she committed suicide. After an investigation he was held under $25,000 bond as a material witness.

Dope Found When Chinaman Is Held On Driving Charge

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Ayeck Chan, a Chinaman of San Diego, was arrested by San Fernando police early today on a charge of driving while intoxicated and a search of his machine uncovered several thousand dollars worth of dope, according to reports from the sheriff's office.

The cache of dope discovered contained 50 cubes of morphine, package of drugs, package of cocaine, bottle of cocaine, 21-2 beans of opium, opium cooking spoon, a hypodermic needle.

Chan was charged with violation of the state poison act by San Fernando police and also booked for driving while under the influence of liquor.

BOLIVIAN FORCES RE-OCCUPY PARAGUAYAN FORT AND HAVE ADVANCED FAR INTO INTERIOR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Charges that Bolivia has reoccupied Fort Vanguardia and advanced 12 miles farther into disputed boundary territory, were contained in a note delivered to the state department and to Chairman Maurtua of the Pan-American special mediation committee today by Charge Ramirez of the Paraguayan legation here.

The note said the alleged move had created a "grave situation" and accused Bolivia of making the advance by "taking advantage of the order given Paraguayan troops to cease hostilities."

This information "shows Bolivia has not complied with its promises and a very grave situation again is created because Paraguay alone cannot avoid new fighting," the note said.

The Bolivian and Paraguayan governments had declared all troop movements had been ordered stopped after both had accepted the good offices of the Inter-American conciliation conference here to mediate the recent boundary trouble.

It was feared the new development might delay the efforts of the conference to bring about a conciliatory settlement of the dispute. Dr. Maurtua appeared greatly surprised at the new developments.

"I was under the impression last night after conferring with the Paraguayan delegate that we would get a favorable reply from that government on the protocol sent it and Bolivia," he told the United Press.

"I will confer with the Paraguayan and Bolivian delegates as soon as possible and probably call a special meeting of my committee if the Paraguayan charges are brought out."

Bolivian Minister Diez de Medina told the United Press he had received no official confirmation of these charges and until he had heard from his government would make no comment.

Secretary of State Kellogg expressed confidence today that reports of further trouble in the area disputed between Paraguay and Bolivia would not prevent peaceful settlement of the international disagreement.

It was pointed out Fort Vanguardia which the Bolivians are alleged by their neighbors to have occupied, is in a remote region but there was no indication of conflict or loss of life in this latest development.

CROP RETURNS IN CALIFORNIA SHOW INCREASE

Agriculture In State For 1928 Ten Millions Over That of 1927

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP)—California's biggest industry, agriculture, earned $10,000,000 more in 1928 than in 1927, Director George H. Hecke of the state department of agriculture reported at Governor C. C. Young's council meeting today.

Over-production or, as market experts insist, under-consumption, caused fruit revenue to fall from $253,418,000 in 1927 to $238,596,000 this year, Hecke estimated. The tonnage and acreages, however, greater this year than last.

Field crops and citrus fruits both showed gains in production, tonnage and revenue during 1928.

Field crops brought the farmers $184,756,000 this year compared with $166,485,000 last year.

The value of the bean crop was over six and a quarter million dollars greater than the previous year and the value of the hay crop was nine and one-half million greater.

Cotton showed the greatest increase in area, 218,000 acres being harvested this year as against 128,000 last year. The yield per acre was the same, making the revenue $16,784,000 against $10,776,000.

Apples, peaches and pears were record crops in California during the 1928. There were 70,000 tons of peaches unharvested.

Grapes were costly to their producers in 1928, bringing nearly seven million dollars less than in 1927.

Although the orange crop can only be estimated for the 1928-29 season, there were indications that the production would bring $102,300,000 this season in comparison to $92,000,000 for the season of 1927-28.

The area devoted to vegetables was about the same as last year, although there was a wide diversification of crops. Data being compiled will indicate a total of 100,000 cars of California vegetables shipped this year against 95,000 in 1927.

The revenue from vegetables was estimated at $75,188,000 this year, a marked increase over the $69,120,000 revenue of 1927.

All the data for livestock is not yet available, but the outlook was reported good for increased production and revenue.

SHARKEY TO MEET STRIBLING FEB. 27

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 28.—Tex Rickard formally announced today that Jack Sharkey, of Boston, and Young Stribling, of Georgia, will meet in a 10-round heavyweight match here on Wednesday night, February 27.

The fight will be held in the Miami Beach Kennel club, overlooking the Atlantic ocean and under the personal direction of Rickard, who arrived here today from New York to complete plans for building an arena to seat 50,000. Both fighters have signed contracts, Tex said.

ROCHEVILLE SEEKS ENDURANCE RECORD

Charles Rocheville, associated with the Zenith Aircraft corporation at Midway airport, in early construction work on the Albatross, giant monoplane, and John Guglielmo, took off from the Imperial airport at 6:57 a. m., today, in an attempt to break the world's flight endurance record with their single-motored Albatross, built in Long Beach. The ship got into the air with 650 gallons of gasoline and 23 gallons of oil and must stay up for 66 hours and 26 minutes to break the existing sustained flight mark.

OPPOSITION TO CRUISER BILL STILL GROWING

However, No Plans Made For Filibuster—Passage Is Almost Certain

BY KENNETH G. CRAWFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Opposition to the navy cruiser construction bill, now the unfinished business in the senate, will continue regardless of the success or failure of the Kellogg peace treaty, it was learned here today.

So far, opponents of the bill calling for construction of 15 cruisers and an airplane carrier have confined themselves to a fight for action on the treaty ahead of the so-called big navy measure. Now they are preparing to carry on their battle even if the peace pact is ratified before the debate on the bill closes.

Senator Norris, Rep. Neb., and other western independents, joined by a few Democrats, are prepared to fight the cruiser bill to the last. So far as can be learned, however, none of them is planning to resort to a filibuster and unless they can gain more recruits cannot stop its passage by other means.

There is a possibility, however, that they will succeed in reducing the number of ships authorized by the bill as it passed the house at its last session. Many senators who do not oppose the naval construction program would vote for modification.

Senator King, Dem. Utah, who has joined Norris in the fight for treaty priority, will introduce an amendment calling for construction of only five cruisers. He also will seek to eliminate the provision calling for completion of the 15-cruiser program in three years. President Coolidge in his message to congress suggested this elimination of the time-clause.

Big navy advocates contend that removal of the time limit would create only a "paper navy" and proponents of the bill profess to have enough strength to retain this provision despite Mr. Coolidge's opposition.

King will introduce a third amendment calling for another

FLYERS READY FOR FLIGHT TO BRAZIL

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Dec. 28.—(INS)—Oliver C. Le Boutillier and Capt. Lewis Yancey plan to begin an attempt today or tomorrow to break the world's long distance flight record. As soon as weather conditions are favorable, they hope to hop off from here in Mrs. Anne U. Stillman's Bellanca monoplane North Star for France field, Panama Canal zone, on the first leg of a flight to Pernambuco, Brazil, and return.

The proposed route covers more than 5000 miles and will be traversed in easy stages after Panama is reached.

Captain Yancey, navigator, has written several books on aviation. Le Boutillier recently participated in the cross-country derby, but failed to reach Los Angeles.

Second Victim Of Power Explosion In L. A. Succumbs

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 28.—(INS)—Fatally burned and injured by shock, L. I. Dashbach, died in the hospital today, the second victim of the terrific explosion that wrecked a switching chamber in the municipal power house yesterday and brought instant death to J. R. Welling, janitor of the plant.

Blaine Montgomery, also tripped in the blast, was reported in a critical condition today, although hospital surgeons are hopeful he will ultimately recover from his injuries.

Closing an investigation of the accident, officials of the bureau of power and light reported that the explosion was caused by gas generated in a huge oil cup and ignited by the spark from a power board switch.

COPPER FIRM BUYS ACREAGE IN MEXICO

Thousands In Gems Stolen At Capistrano

Three Persons Jailed and Booked on Suspicion Of Burglary

TWO MEN and a woman are under arrest and are being held in the county jail booked for suspicion of burglary, following the robbery of the home of F. F. Kelly, San Juan Capistrano business man, late yesterday afternoon.

Thousands of dollars worth of jewelry, including a platinum bracelet set with four diamonds and five sapphires, a platinum bar pin, silver mesh bag, necklace set with a diamond, two handsome watches and chains, opal stick pin, purse with rhinestone clasp and other jewelry were stolen in the burglary it was reported.

No one was at the Kelly home at the time the thieves entered, but Mrs. Kelly returned while the burglars were at work. They hurriedly dropped a bathrobe which was being used to carry away a number of men and women's clothes, including several handsome furs and these were found in the dining room of the house.

Mrs. Kelly heard the thieves run out the back door as she entered the front door, she reported.

The three persons under arrest are Pietra Flores, 24, Frank Flores, 26, and Julio Flores, 27, who gave their address as Delhi, but officers claim they reside in Montana.

The trio had been living at the San Juan Capistrano auto camp for the past three days, less than a half block from the Kelly home, officers said.

They were arrested by State Officer Joe Clever, who held them until Sheriff's Officers Carter and Steward arrived from Santa Ana. A search of their persons failed to reveal any of the stolen jewelry, it was said.

Steward said today that when officers made the arrest the trio were preparing to leave the automobile camp, and that he had learned that they were not in the camp at the time the burglary was committed. They were driving a car which bore a Montana license plate, it was said.

Entrance into the house was made through a bedroom window. In an effort to procure finger prints, which if found will determine whether the Flores family committed the burglary, Herman Zahel, finger print expert of the sheriff's office and Steward were working in San Juan Capistrano this afternoon.

HOOPER'S SHIP STILL 10 DAYS OUT FROM U. S.

President-Elect Expects to Reach Hampton Roads Sixth of January

BY THOMAS L. STOKES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

A BOARD THE U. S. S. UTAH, Dec. 28.—President-elect Herbert Hoover and his party homeward bound from a goodwill tour of South America were in the open sea today for the first time since the party left San Pedro, Calif., more than a month ago on the U. S. S. Maryland.

Cape Saint Roque, the most northerly point on the steamship lanes, has been passed and the Utah was sailing out of sight of land toward the equator. The equator will be reached today but there will be no Father Neptune visit to the Utah as there was to the Maryland, since every one aboard has been across the line and are old-timers in the "shell-back" world.

The vessel still has a ten-day trip to Hampton Roads, where the party will disembark Jan. 6 for its trip to Washington by special train.

With none of the coastal scenery visible, time has begun to drag on board. During the long trip down the west coast of the southern continent, the vessel ran close to shore most of the way and the entire party was able to watch the scenery and the

C. M. Malmgren, Wright whirlwind motor expert, who serviced the three motors of the plane for the flight, is here with the news that the Southern Cross will be used in airmail flights between Sydney and Brisbane, but Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and C. T. P. Uhm are returning here after failure of negotiating with Honolulu people for a flight from Honolulu to San Francisco.

14 In Race For Honors As Talkers

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Fourteen jagged-throated entries, without benefit of straight jackets, continued to sing, gibber, and otherwise hold incoherent communication with themselves today at the "talking marathon."

At the 69th hour of the wordiest contest in history, Betty Wilson, of Erie, Pa., former swimmer at Carnegie Tech and ex-show girl, was tongue-tied for first place with Albert Williams, of San Antonio, Texas, parachute jumper and flagpole sitter. Each registered no time out at 10:30 A. M.

TARIFF CUT ON DIAMONDS IS DEMANDED

Dealers Say They Cannot Compete With Smuggling Racket Under High Duty

TAX OF 20 PER CENT

Illegal Trade Amounts to About $100,000,000 a Year, Experts Estimate

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The $100,000,000 a year diamond smuggling racket will be taken up by congress in the next few weeks.

American jewelers are expected to renew before the ways and means committee hearings on the new tariff bill their demand for reduction or elimination of the 20 per cent import duty on these precious gems.

The high protective tariff on gems has been almost the ruin of legitimate jewelers, according to complaints previously made by them, because of the ease in smuggling diamonds.

Just Nick Surface

Recent raids by customs officials, who have seized hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of diamonds off ships in Norfolk, have merely nicked the surface of the illegal business, they claim.

The diamonds are brought from Belgium and Holland, where most of the world's diamonds are cut. The value is so great that the 20 per cent duty is a sizeable item and the jewelers who purchase legitimately imported stones are faced with ruinous competition. Many are smuggled across the Canadian border, after being legitimately imported from Europe, Canada's tax being much smaller.

The import duty on diamonds will be considered late in February, committee officials said today.

There are two schools of thought on the import tax, one that the present tax brings in a large revenue and should be continued, and the other that the tax protects no American business and discriminates against legitimate importers.

Some Fear Felt

The former school also fears elimination of the tax might provide for outlet for large numbers of stolen diamonds from the South African fields.

American diamond cutters also have asked for elimination of the tax as "protection" because the Belgian and Dutch cutters work at cheaper wages and hence get most of the diamond cutting business.

One expert recently estimated that as many diamonds are smuggled as are legitimately imported. This would amount to about $100,000,000 a year. If taxed, these smuggled diamonds would add $20,000,000 to the U. S. treasury. Few other nations have import taxes on diamonds.

HUNT FOUR YOUTHS IN THEATER ROBBERY

FRESNO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Police today were looking for a dilapidated old touring car and four youths who used it to make their getaway after holding up and robbing the Wilson theater of the day's receipts, amounting to $1500.

Two unmasked men, lying in wait on the mezzanine floor of the show house last night, stopped the doorman, Kenneth Workman, and Miss Fern Sale, ticket seller, as they carried the money in bags to the manager's office. Workman resisted the attempt of one of the bandits to relieve him of the bags and knocked him down. The other robber snatched the money, however, and the two ran to the parked car in which two other youths had been keeping watch.

Police early today arrested a suspect who is said to answer the description given of one of the holdup men.

Liquor Witness Believed Dying; Two Held In Jail

SAN JOSE, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Abel Frias, 22, Santa Clara, was reported dying today in a hospital at Los Banos from head wounds. Two suspected assassins were held here for Merced county authorities.

Police here declare the attack on Frias was inspired by the testimony he was to have given in superior court here today against Salvador Cardinelli, charged with illegal possession of liquor.

Cardinelli and Viola Post, 27, are in custody. Cardinelli denied being out of the city, but authorities say the motor of his sedan was still warm when they found him at his home here. The girl admitted being out with Cardinelli last night.

Woman Jailed When Officers Find Still In Her Home

STOLEN GOODS ALSO REPORTED FOUND IN HOUSE

Paula Salazar, 40, housewife, of 117 South Daisy street, was arrested yesterday afternoon at her home when a whiskey still and coil were said to have been found by Officers A. L. Steward and C. V. Adams, who had entered the house with a search warrant in quest of a number of stolen blankets.

She is being held in the county jail and has not been arraigned.

Two blankets, reported identified as part of a number stolen from Francisca Garcia, also were found in the house, it was reported. A charge of petty theft also may be lodged against the woman, officers said.

Garcia's blankets, together with a rifle and a shotgun, were stolen when Garcia was serving time in the county jail on a liquor charge, according to Steward.

Besides the still, officers reported they found a small quantity of whiskey, 100 gallons of mash and a number of empty bottles. The still was not in operation, they said.

FRUIT THIEF IS SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON

With the activities of county authorities and the night fruit patrol rapidly making Orange county a hot place for fruit thieves and with the net of the law closing around members of a gang which has been attempting to operate in this section, a decisive blow was struck again today when one of the alleged conspirators was sentenced to San Quentin for a term of one to five years.

Gordon Pusley, after pleading guilty to a charge of petty theft with prior conviction, came before Presiding Judge H. G. Ames today and heard the judgment of the court which will place him where he cannot engage in his alleged fruit stealing activities in the future. Pusley was not represented by counsel and stated that he saw no reason why the judgment of the court should not be pronounced.

Several months ago he was convicted of petty theft in connection with the same line of activity. His prior conviction made him eligible for confinement in a state prison.

CONDUCT FUNERAL OF FRED THOMSON

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 28.—(UP)—Last rites for Fred Thomson, star of western pictures, were held at the Beverly Hills Community Presbyterian church today. Following the services his body was placed in a temporary vault and interment was postponed until the arrival of relatives from the east.

Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Farrell, Harold Lloyd, Norman Kerry, Buster Keaton, Milton Sills, William Randolph Hearst and Harry Chandler were among the active and honorary pall bearers.

Among the hundreds of telegrams of condolence received by Thomson's widow, Frances Marion, was one from Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion of the world.

party had little trouble in putting the time in.

Ever since the president-elect decided to go to Washington instead of to Florida for a rest after his trip, the wireless of the Utah has been kept constantly busy transmitting his messages to party and congressional leaders in Washington.

Final arrangements for the discussions of pressing home affairs which he will hold with the party leaders have been completed. There has been no official word issued regarding the conferences, nor have there been any indications regarding the make-up of the cabinet which will take office with Mr. Hoover on March 4.

There has been considerable speculation regarding the makeup of the cabinet among the members of the party ever since San Pedro was left behind. It has been known that Mr. Hoover has been seriously considering a list of possible names for his cabinet. The president-elect, however, has maintained an attitude of complete silence and no definite announcement is expected before he has had time to discuss the matter at Washington.

With the ship now within the equatorial belt, the weather has become intensely hot, although occasional cooling breezes bring a welcome relief for those who sit on the decks to escape the still hotter spots of the ship below.

Everyone in the party slept on deck last night—the second night that camp cots were arranged on deck.

A program is being arranged by Captain C. A. Train of the Utah and the other members of the ship's personnel for the New Year's celebrations. The holiday will be the third which will be spent by the party at sea. Thanksgiving was celebrated shortly after the Maryland sailed from San Pedro, while the Christmas holidays were passed on board the Utah after Rio De Janeiro was left behind.

FAMOUS BALL PLAYER'S WIFE PASSES IN S. A.

Mrs. Laura B. Dungan, wife of Sam M. Dungan, the "Babe Ruth" of professional baseball in the '90s and early years of 1900, died last night in the family residence, 221 South Broadway, at the age of 62 years. She is survived by her husband and two children, Dorothy E. and Myron, and a sister, Miss Nettie Lippy. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow, in the Smith and Tutthill chapel. Interment will be made in the Santa Ana cemetery.

On November 14 she was married to Mr. Dungan at Mansfield, O. Dungan at the time being at the height of his successful career as a professional baseball player.

Following the marriage, Mrs. Dungan accompanied her husband on the baseball circuits and was known to scores of persons throughout the country. When Mr. Dungan quit baseball in 1905, he and Mrs. Dungan came back to Santa Ana. He erected a home on East Fourth street and later at Laguna Beach, where the family resided for 12 years.

The Dungan home on South Broadway was established in 1917.

Dungan entered professional baseball in 1890 at Oakland where he played for one year the position of right fielder under T. P. Robinson. During 1901 he was with the Milwaukee club in the Western league and during 1902 and 1903 and a portion of 1894 he played with the White Sox of Chicago. From 1894 to 1900 he was associated with Detroit and with Kansas City in 1900, the first year of the American league. In 1901 he played with Washington, D. ## ARCTIC EXPLORER SPEAKS IN ORANGE

ORANGE, Dec. 28.—Capt. H. H. Hammer, former Arctic explorer and secretary of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary club yesterday.

Captain Hammer was a member of the Amundsen expedition in 1917. He told of his experiences in the 130-horsepower Junker plane which Amundsen's expedition carried and in which the speaker flew within 300 miles of the pole.

Hardships of the explorers are not so great as many think, the speaker declared. Every member of the Amundsen expedition had a Saturday night bath and daily shave until week before the return to civilization. At this time, the captain said, they all let their hair and beards grow to conform to the accepted appearance of explorers.

SHARPLESS BUYS LA HABRA TRACT

Fifty-four acres in the La Habra Heights section have been purchased by B. H. Sharpless, pioneer avocado grower of Orange county, from the Edwin G. Hart company, it was announced.

The new owner expects to set the tract to the Sharpless brand of avocados and later on will erect a country home on the property.

Cecil Marks, son-in-law of Sharpless, will have charge of the tract.

The consideration was not made public. The land is about two miles from the city of La Habra.

High Tides Fill Slough At Laguna
LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 28.—The unusually high tides of the last few days have filled the slough and brought water up about some of the buildings on the south side of the highway.

The ordinary tides throw up a barrier of sand that blocks the mouth of the slough. But the extremely high tides of this week sent water over this sand barrier and into the slough, filling it nearly full. The water will probably remain until it seeps out, or until rains bring enough additional water down the canyon to break through the sand embankment placed by the waves.

FAIL TO DISCOVER 2 TRAIN WRECKERS

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 28.—(UP)—The two men believed responsible for the derailing of the Santa Fe Missionary near Hesperia still were sought today by half a hundred deputy sheriffs and special officers.

Except for the footprints of two men leading away from the scene and possible fingerprints on the tools used to pull spikes and angle connections from the rails, authorities had no clues.

The Missionary, carrying 178 passengers east, hurtled from the tracks early Wednesday when it struck rails loosened by wreckers.

Although the entire train left the tracks and three cars overturned, only one person, W. H. Burbage, required hospital treatment. Seven others received minor injuries but were able to continue the trip east.

the heart was standing the strain of the illness.

The medical correspondent of the Daily Express said the bulletin might indicate a slight return of the general infection, or might be one of the natural depressions which occasionally occur in the course of convalescence.

Plans are being made at the palace for New Year's celebrations, but this year they will naturally be of a very quiet nature, on account of the king's illness.

Queen Marie of Roumania, widow of the late King Ferdinand and a cousin of King George, will be among the palace guests at New Years. Afterwards she will go to a health resort.

The royal yacht, "Victoria and Albert," is being overhauled at the Portsmouth navy yard in readiness to take the king for a long sea voyage if required when the monarch is sufficiently recovered to make such a trip.

LAGUNA GROUP TO SUBSTITUTE PLAY

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 28.—Though the play "Passers-By," which was to have been given by the Community club players in January, has been postponed, the director, Mrs. Guy Bates Post, the play reading committee and the play casting committee expect to give another play in its place, the date probably to be late in the month.

naval disarmament conference and providing that further cruiser construction shall not be started until such a conference has been held.

Norris is expected to hold out for defeat of the entire construction program but has made no definite plans. If opposition develops into a filibuster, it will probably be Norris who leads it.

Senator Borah, Repn., Idaho, who, has charge of the Kellogg treaty, has announced he will try to persuade the senate to reduce the authorization to 10 cruisers. He is expected to vote for the bill if this modification is made.

Opponents of the cruiser bill in its present form contend that its passage would nullify the effect of the treaty. Senator Harrison, Dem., Miss., summarized their attitude when he said that passage of the navy bill would serve notice on the world that the United States regards the peace pact as a "meaningless gesture."

DIRECTORS OF L. B. C. OF C. NAMED SOON

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 28.—Fourteen nominations have been made for the fourteen places as directors on the board of the chamber of commerce. The election is to be held January 9.

Those whose names have been placed in nomination are F. W. Cuprien, Frank B. Champion, W. T. Lambert, Dr. B. B. Mason, F. C. Pemberton, F. W. Shields, Joseph S. Thurston, L. F. Walden, William Bernard, C. H. Jester, B. C. Mackey, A. B. Marshall, George E. Thompson and Jack J. Power. The last named is now a member, but was appointed only a month or so ago to fill a vacancy. The first eight named are now members of the board.

Though nominations may be made of others by writing in at the election, it is not expected that this will be the case, and the 14 whose names will be printed on the ballot probably will be elected.

Secretary G. B. Dunham is urging all members to be present at the election, as that is virtually stockholders day, he says, and they should be present to make their desires known.

3000 COULTER PINES SAID TO BE AVAILABLE

Reforestation of burned over forest areas in Orange county may be launched as a project of the Orange County Forest Protective association as a result of action taken at a meeting in the Orange city hall last night.
The association session, presided over by John Ragan, chairman, adopted a resolution which pledged the organization to undertake the making of plans for reforestation, in co-operation with other agencies. As soon as possible it will be determined where the greatest good would be gained from setting out 3000 2-year-old Coulter pines available for this section at the Devil's canyon nursery, in the San Bernardino mountains.

A committee was chosen to outline the activities of the organization during 1935 and it is expected that reforestation will form a part of any suggested program. George Bartley, El Modena; E. F. Mathews, Santa Ana, and Frank Collins, Villa Park, were named on the committee.

Another group was instructed to investigate the possibility of keeping fire wardens and no smoking signs in the forest areas for longer periods each year. At present the date is November 1, but it was pointed out last night that an investigation has revealed that some of the worst forest fires occur after that date. Norman M. Blaney, secretary of the organization and of the Orange County Farm bureau was named on this committee with Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg and C. B. Redman, fire warden for the Santiago Valley Irrigation company.

Establishment of another tool station at or near Olive or Olinda was discussed.
Willard Smith, supervisor from the fourth district, outlined to the group the developments in the tri-counties fire prevention and water conservation programs.

Wahlberg showed the gathering three reels of films which depicted the methods used in forest fire fighting in the north woods.

Monday Set For Argument On New Hearing For Rand

Argument on a motion for a new trial for Clarence F. Rand, convicted here on a bigamy charge, was continued until 9:30 a. m., next Monday, when the matter was taken up in Presiding Judge H. G. Ames' court today. Continuance was at the request of the defendant.

Rand was convicted in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court recently. He had entered a not guilty by reason of insanity plea in addition to his not guilty plea. In Judge Ames' court a jury found that he was sane on Dec. 15, 1934, when he is alleged to have committed the crime.

Altogether Rand is said to have married five times, although he professes to be unaware of the fact that he married at least one of the women. His last wife is Hazel Mayes Rand, of Los Angeles.

C. N. MOZLEY IS DEFENDANT IN CHECK CASE

Presiding Judge H. G. Ames today had taken under advisement the evidence in a lawsuit against C. N. Mozley, Santa Ana attorney, and Laura J. Gregg, of Anaheim, in which the First National Bank of Santa Ana is seeking judgment for $1000 as a result of the refusal of the Anaheim National bank to honor a check drawn by the woman in favor of Mozley and cashed in the Santa Ana bank.

The court yesterday entered a default in the case of Mozley, who did not make an appearance. In respect to Laura Gregg the matter was taken under advisement.

According to the complaint, the woman gave the check to Mozley on November 7, he indorsed it in blank and received payment at the bank. When the check was sent to Anaheim, the bank on which it was drawn refused to honor it on the ground that payment had been stopped by the maker, the complaint stated.

In answering the charges Laura Gregg declared that she had given the check to Mozley after he had turned over to her his promissory note for $1050. Then, she stated, she discovered that the security he had given her was not good and stopped payment. She alleged that the bank here knew when the check was cashed that payment had been stopped.

Sherman Moore Check Trial To Open January 24

The Norwalk officials found that he was not insane and he was returned here for trial.

OPENING OF NEW CHURCH OF CHRIST WILL CROWN YEAR'S WORK ON PART OF MEMBERS

Sunday, December 30, 1928, will be an important date in annals of the Broadway and Walnut Street Church of Christ, for it will bring the formal opening of the remodelled and redecorated church building and thus crown the efforts and business enterprise of the congregation, which has worked so faithfully for the last year in bringing the changes in the building to pass.

James H. Sewell, active young minister of the church, has outlined the plans for the day, which will be a full one from the Sunday school hour, at 9:45 a. m., under the leadership of George W. Duke, to the final services at 7 o'clock in the evening. One of the most interesting features will be the 11 a. m. sermon, to be preached by the Rev. G. W. Riggs, well known Los Angeles evangelist, whose influence played a prominent part in the founding of the church 23 years ago last June.

At that time the little congregation was very proud of the church home on the outskirts of Santa Ana and with green and golden barley fields rolling to its door. Each successive year since that date, the fourth Sunday in June has seen a return of the Rev. Mr. Riggs to preach at the morning service, with the exception of but one year when he was absent in the east. The formal opening of the church on Sunday would not be considered complete by the congregation without his presence.

At 2:30 in the afternoon there will be a congratulatory service, with ministers from Los Angeles, San Diego, Long Beach, Ontario and other Southern California cities to give short talks. The evening meeting, at 7 o'clock, will serve to introduce the Rev. Foy E. Wallace, former Texas evangelist, now minister of the Central Church of Christ, Los Angeles, who will deliver a sermon from a text appropriate to the occasion.

Nor will social features be lacking in connection with the dedication, for faithful workers among the women of the church have planned for one of their famous dinners to be served all members and visitors gathered for the morning worship. If fine weather prevails the dinner will be served under the umbrella trees surrounding the building. Should the weather prove unfavorable, there will be ample room for all guests within the building, according to the minister.

The committee in charge of dinner arrangements is composed of Mrs. George Duke, Mrs. Alice Duke, Mrs. Thomas Greer, Mrs. H. J. Lamb, Mrs. James H. Sewell, Mrs. J. J. Smiley, Mrs. Fred Germany, Mrs. C. A. Stockton and the Misses Louise, Eunice and Edith McGowan. They will serve hot baked ham, baked beans, coffee and pumpkin pie, with the women of the congregation adding other dishes to the menu. Everyone at the morning service will be cordially welcomed to the dinner and Mr. Sewell has assured all church friends that there will be no drive for funds in any way.

Small Buildings Moved
The frame of the original church was found in construction of the new stucco building, under the supervision of J. J. Smiley, a member of the congregation, and a contractor and builder of 50 years' experience. The small buildings on the lot, which are given over rent-free to otherwise homeless widows of the congregation, have been moved to one side of the lot and arranged in court effect, to be refinished to conform to the church.

The auditorium of the church has been enlarged and with an eastern wing and two large Sunday school rooms, all of which may be thrown together, will offer a seating capacity of considerably over 400. Indirect lighting, gum woodwork throughout and an exterior finish of light tan stucco with dark brown trim are incidental features of the repairs. The lawn surrounding the church is to be landscaped and planted with flowers and shrubbery as spring advances.

Police News

Oranges Get Sugar Test In District

ORANGE, Dec. 28.—With the navel season at hand, orange officials are busy testing oranges for the sugar content.

R. E. Headley, assistant manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, who has been squeezing the golden juice from baskets of oranges for the past few weeks, says about 12 oranges are used for each test. Fruit with a low content and some which has a high content are mixed and an average obtained.

The sugar comes into the orange almost over night, according to Headley, and oranges which have been sour one day will be found sweet the next day.

Oranges in this vicinity are rapidly becoming sweet enough to fill the requirements for shipping and it is expected that four cars will be shipped through the exchange this week. Next week will see the shipping well in progress, Headley declares.

BLAZE ENDANGERS BUSINESS SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 28.—A fire of unknown origin which started in the pantry of Aunt Pat's cafeteria in Balboa caused damage estimated at $150, according to a report on file at the fire station today. The alarm was turned in about 8 o'clock last night. The building, a frame affair, is owned by J. P. Greeley and is rented by B. G. Patterson. A hotel occupies the upper floor.

Prompt action on the part of the fire department brought the fire under immediate control. Had the blaze gained headway an entire business block in Balboa would have been threatened.

The other bidder, Peter B. Yarak, submitted a bid for excavating, breaking up old paving and fine grading, 10 cents a square foot; loading on city wagons, hauling and dumping at river, $1 per cubic yard; concrete paving, $13.75 per cubic yard.

Finds Dollar After Black Cat Crosses

LAGUNA BEACH, Dec. 28.—Is it bad luck when a black cat crosses your path?

A local resident saw a black cat. It ran alongside the walk on Cliff drive, then darted across. "Bad luck," he muttered. Then he walked on 10 feet and picked up a dollar.

"Not so bad," he amended. Curious to see the black cat that broke tradition, and brought good luck, he walked back and started to pick it up. Then he hesitated. There was something wrong about the cat. It wasn't the usual sort of cat at all.

Just to make sure his eyes were not falling him, or his dinner hadn't fermented, he counted his own fingers. He wanted to make sure he was seeing only what actually existed.

Then he picked up the cat and examined it. It had six feet, six perfectly formed and wholly usable feet.

Inquiry developed the fact that it belonged to William A. Griffith, dean of Laguna artists, former president of the Laguna Beach Art association.

The legs of the cat (it is only a kitten) are normal. But just at the ankle, on each front leg, two complete feet are formed.

COVER ON MACHINE RESULTS IN BLAZE

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 28.—Don't place a cover over your car if you have just returned from a long trip and your motor is hot.

That is the advice being given by S. M. Moore, an employee of the Newport Harbor Yacht club. Moore is backed up by Fire Chief Frank Crocker.

Moore returned home late last night. He threw a canopy over his car and retired. A few minutes later his car burst into flames. The hot exhaust pipe had set fire to the covering. The fire department extinguished the blaze but not before Moore's car was badly damaged.

S. A. AND SEAL BEACH YOUTHS ARE RESCUED

SEAL BEACH, Dec. 28.—Ralph Shupe, of Seal Beach, and Victor Brown, of Santa Ana, had a narrow escape from drowning late yesterday when their boat was caught by the current in Anaheim bay and swept out to sea and filled with water.

A child reported their danger to Mrs. C. A. Wheat and she phoned the police. In the meantime, Jack Whittington, of Seal Beach, and Paul Musch, an employee of the Southern Counties Gas company, manned a boat and succeeded in rescuing the two boys.

Had their danger been unnoticed the boys would have drowned in the heavy breakers, it is believed. The current in Alamitos bay was particularly strong yesterday, it was reported.

An example of what a thousand miles of ordinary driving with ordinary gasoline can do—oil 51% gasoline—thinning caused by incomplete explosion of "wet" gas

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, reduces oil thinning to a minimum. Notice this example—only 9.2% in a thousand miles of ordinary driving

Not much lubrication there; your oil is full of GASOLINE

EVEN if you drained your oil at 500 miles you'd likely find that 25% of it was gasoline. A thousand miles, and over half of it is apt to be gasoline.

Gasoline you bought for powerful miles—wasted. Worse than that, it has diluted your oil, endangered your motor.

Down the cylinder walls go unburned fractions of "wet" gasoline—when you flood a cold motor or press the throttle for a quick start, when you shift gears. All these incidents tend to increase oil thinning. But you can't avoid them in driving. No one can.

Yet today lubrication men find many motors that after a full thousand miles of running show little crankcase dilution.

The reason is found in the kind of gasoline. More and more motorists are using a "dry" gas—Shell 400. Completely vaporized as it enters the cylinders, this gasoline burns cleanly, completely, leaving no "wet" residue.

And isn't it reasonable that such a gas will give more power and more mileage since none of it is wasted? Reasonable, too, that it will give you always a smoother flow of power?

The price you pay for ordinary gasoline will buy Shell 400. The thousands of yellow and red Shell pumps supply it.

No other Shell gasoline is sold. Fill with Shell 400 and use it until you have made the test of "wet" and "dry" gasoline. Then you'll never be willing to change.

And about oil: There's an oil now that forms no hard, flinty carbon. If you would avoid the endless troubles caused by carbon, and "add thousands of miles to the life of your car," insist on SHELL MOTOR OIL whenever you buy

Don't take needless risks with germs may be spread by hands

Wash often with the toilet soap that removes germs as well as dirt

AGAIN flu threatens!

Once more health authorities are fighting it, calling for your cooperation, urging every precaution.

Seven protective measures against flu—listed below—have been compiled by the Life Extension Institute. Study these rules carefully. Follow them all—especially rule No. 2 about keeping hands germ free. The simplest rule of all—yet one of the most important.

For your hands are continually coming in contact with germ-laden objects—car straps, banisters, door knobs, public telephones, money—and many more things that you and your children must touch.

And, since it is not yet certain exactly how influenza is spread, it is doubly important to do all you can to avoid it. Hands may carry it. Note statement of U. S. Public Health Service on how germs are spread by hands.

So, take this simple precaution and urge every member of your family to do the same. Wash hands oftener—always before eating and always with the toilet soap that removes germs as well as dirt.

The favorite toilet soap of millions purifies

Millions demand Lifebuoy for every toilet and bath purpose, just because they find it so refreshing, so cleansing, so safe for delicate skins, so effective in keeping away perspiration odor.

But Lifebuoy is far more than just a fine toilet soap. Its penetrating antiseptic lather removes germs as well as dirt.

Note its re-assuring hygienic scent

Lifebuoy's pleasantly hygienic, re-assuring scent, which vanishes as you rinse, tells you it gives greater protection. Yet Lifebuoy costs no more—probably less—than the soap you now use.

You can get Lifebuoy wherever soap is sold. Start using Lifebuoy today as a common sense health measure.

HEALTH SOAP
Removes germs—protects health

You MUST touch door handles, though other hands may have left them germ-laden

What U. S. Public Health Service says:

"If a germ could talk, it would tell you that nothing pleases him more than to get a free ride from someone's soiled hands to some other person's mouth."

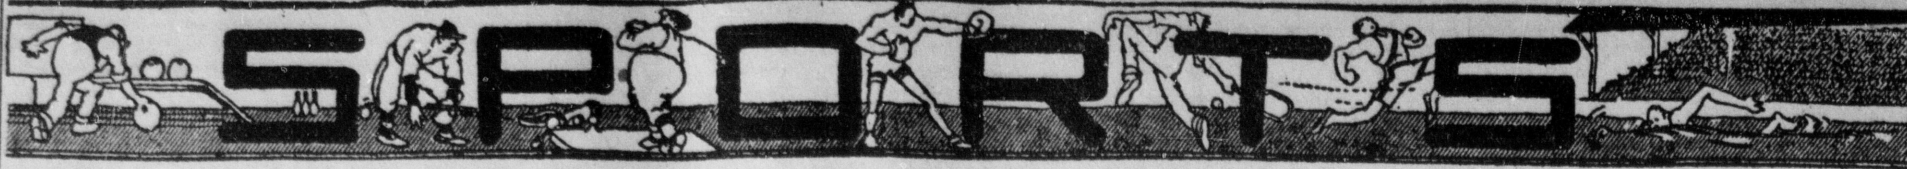

—U. S. Public Health Service Broadcast No. 96

Don't fear Flu—fight it these seven ways

1. Keep out of crowds all day long.
2. Remove germs from your hands as often as possible.
3. Get plenty of rest, sleep, exercise, fresh air and nourishing food.
4. Avoid exposure to chill when tired.
5. Fortify yourself to resist the flu by having a health examination.
6. If you have "home remedies" call a doctor.
7. Be careful in conversation. It is a danger period.

WHO'D THINK IT?
Mr. Charles S. Tuttle, United States attorney in New York, is getting a large reputation as an investigator and exposé in the case that developed after the murder of Arnold Rothstein, the multi-millionaire New York gambler.

Mr. Tuttle is operating in a much larger and more important sphere now, of course, but the exercise of a little memory recalls him as a very competent and able investigator and exposé in the case of the late 1919.

It was the same Mr. Tuttle who caused Ben Johnson to lose his first important fight and it was over the American league president had broke his iron hold on baseball and put him in the skids.

Tuttle was counsel for the New York Yankees in the suit brought to enjoin Johnson from blocking the transfer of Carl Mays from the Boston Red Sox to the Yankees.

YANKS WENT TO WAR
It will be recalled that Mays umpired the Red Sox in mid-season and was suspended by Johnson.

HUDKINS-DE VOS MIX TONIGHT PRODUCES NEW MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMPION; WALKER IS HEAVY

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Taking the matter into custody purely on suspicion, it would seem that out of 10 rounds of candid violence between Ace Hudkins and Rene De Vos at Madison Square Garden tonight must emerge the new middleweight champion of the world.

This statement obviously won't stand alone, in view of the fact that Mickey Walker is the old, the new and, in fact, the present middleweight champion; one, therefore, must come bounding gladly out from the players' bench with a couple of substitute legs and here they are:

First, the prevalent belief that Walker cannot again go to the scales with 160 pounds and come away, ununbashed. He last tried it six months ago in Chicago and, if he didn't blow up in the final six rounds that night, then I'm going down to Wall street and wait for the next explosion to jolt me forward off my heels.

Second, that Walker hasn't licked either of tonight's principals and probably won't.

He hasn't licked De Vos because he has paid absolutely no attention in a manner most marked. He hasn't licked Hudkins because, so far as I am concerned, he just hasn't licked him. It is admitted, however, that some very competent critics thought Walker won the Chicago fight, so it may be that I am just plain goggle-eyed and cantankerous. Anyhow, I can't "yes" that one.

What happened that night supports, in a measure, the current idea that Walker no longer is a middleweight. He clearly was outgrilled by Hudkins and barely could lift his hands during the last five rounds. Kearns later explained that Walker was suffering from tonsillitis. However, the writer had looked on the bogues and should have been confined somewhere out of harm's way. Later, Walker knocked out Armand Emanuel. But not as a middleweight.

Anyhow, this pair tonight would do very well in any championship fight and, unless Walker can be chivied out of inactivity, it might be that the winner ultimately will succeed to the title.

May Reorganize High School League

ANNUAL REPORT HEARD AROUND SPORT CIRCUIT

By GRIDDER
The boys who like to whoop it up about football in particular and athletics in general started a fire under the good old bush-wah manufacturer today and out of the smoke appeared the Hot Stove league's annual December story that the Coast Preparatory league will never begin another campaign with its present personnel.

If you have forgotten the make-up at present it is Pasadena, Long Beach, San Diego, Santa Ana, Glendale, Alhambra, Whittier and South Pasadena. Those schools compose the hottest interscholastic circuit in the state and probably the country. If you can win in that company you can stick your nostrils in almost anybody's business and get away with it.

This same yarn has been boomed around the circuit for so many years that nobody pays much attention to it anymore but it is always worth a certain amount of attention.

This season the boys and girls are whispering that Glendale, Whittier and South Pasadena are thinking more or less seriously about retiring from the going and hatching up some sort of a league of their own. Whittier and South Pasadena, it is said, have felt the severity of the competition while Glendale, one of the largest institutions in the league, will suffer seriously next fall when a second high school opens in that city and draws half of the present enrollment.

The other half of the chatter concerns Fullerton, long the big wolf of the Little Orange league, which has made efforts from time to time and a most sincere one last spring to rejoin the Coast Preparatory league from which it withdrew in 1924 because the presence of San Diego in the same company was obnoxious.

Fullerton does not stay in the Orange league and kick over all opposition because it likes to be the big frog in the little pond. It remains there chiefly because it has nowhere else to go. It was denied readmission last year because the Coast Prep loop was too large as it stands. If Whittier or South Pasadena should actually leave a vacancy would be created and the "Big Red" teams would undoubtedly return to the fold, whether or not San Diego sticks by its guns.

KAER TO PLAY WITH ALL-WESTERN TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 28.—"Buck" Marcus, former University of California star backfield man, was the only member of the West's team today who was not eagerly looking forward to tomorrow afternoon when the annual East-West gridiron clash gets underway.

Marcus is suffering from a broken shoulder received in scrimmage which will prevent him from playing with the "West of the Mississippi boys," but his physical pin is as nothing to his mental disappointment.

Loss of the former California back will be felt by the Westerners. Marcus is recognized as the best man on the squad for power plays and could generally be counted on to deliver in any emergency.

Morton Kaer, the great U. S. C. star and All-American, has accepted an invitation to fill Marcus' shoes, and he will be in the West's backfield at the opening kickoff.

Delaney, Slattery Booked For Feb. 1

McCardle also stated he had received Jack Sharkey's signed contract for his January 25 match with K. O. Christner, of Akron, O.

PRICE PLEASED AT FINE SHAPE OF BEAR SQUAD

BY HARRY CULVER
(I. N. S. Special Correspondent)

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 28.—"Nibs" Price, the little Napoleon determined to clinch supremacy for the Western football empire, today declared himself so satisfied with the way his California Bears are shaping up for the New Year's Day tussle with Georgia Tech that hereafter his charges will have only one workout a day until game time.

After sending the boys through six hours of drill in the Rose Bowl, Price declared that today the squad would have only one scrimmage, and that a three-hour session.

"They're coming along in pretty good shape," declared Price, "condition will tell the story next Tuesday and I won't know until then just how good they are. When you don't even practice for a month it's pretty hard to get an accurate line on the boys."

Concerning the secret attack which the Bears are reported to be "cooking up" for Tech, Price gave up about as much information as one of the pre-Christmas utkrays could.

However, "Nibs" hinted that the lineup may be shaken up a bit for the game.

"We're experimenting a bit, and I won't be able to announce a lineup for a couple of days yet," admitted Price.

Captain Irvine Phillips, end, was nursing an injured leg as the result of strenuous scrimmage when California resumed practice today. Phillips' leg

'AMATEURS' IN RUSH FOR PRO BOX LICENSES

With "amateur" boxing passing into the great beyond after one last, long kick at Anaheim tonight, Orange county's star participants began to climb on the professional band wagon today.

Zenaydo Chavez, of Santa Ana, the best drawing card of the bunch, will immediately ask for a license from the state boxing commission. Chavez belongs to the stable of boys operated by Kid Mexico, the former boxer and present matchmaker for the Orange County Athletic club which so far is the only licensed arena in the county.

Jimmy Rivers, the Fullerton welterweight who used to appear almost every week on the programs at the Delhi Athletic club where Boyd Ellis was promoter, also will go after a card from the commission, it is understood. Rivers stated several weeks ago that he contemplated such a move and when Orange County Athletic club officials assured him they would give him a chance to work his way up at their place of business it made this action virtually certain.

Friday has been designated as the regular "fite nite" for the O. C. A. C. and the first professional card will be held next week, January 4, according to Major Anderson, business director.

REDLANDS CLUB LATEST VICTIM OF LOCAL FOLK

Only three more match series stretched out today before the woman golf team of the Santa Ana Country club which is waging a determined fight for the championship of its division in the Southern California Inter-club league.

Victorious, 3½ to 3½, over the formidable Red Hill Country club feminine team at Redlands yesterday, the Santa Ana women are in an advantageous position now to put on a strong finish and secure their first title.

The Redlands representatives scored three of their points in one match but were unable to make headway against the local squad as a whole.

Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth and Mrs. J. K. McDonald, Santa Ana, playing in the first flight, routed Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Puckett. The point score was 2½ to ½.

Miss Margaret Way and Mrs. L. H. Robinson, playing in spot No. 2, were defeated by Mrs. Grier and Miss Gillman, 3 to 0. Mrs. Hugh Shields and Mrs. C. V. Doty, Santa Ana, humbled Mrs. Neill and Mrs. Goddave, 3 to 0, and Mrs. F. C. Drumm and Mrs. Oaman Flax completed the Santa Ana landslide by turning in another 3 to 0 victory over Mrs. Thorpe and Miss Wightman.

Standings in the league were not available today but it was virtually certain that the championship is between Santa Ana and the Hacienda Country club, of La Habra. Santa Ana plays Redlands on January 3, Hacienda on January 10 and Mountain Meadows on January 21. Santa Ana will have the advantage of meeting all its opposition on the home course.

SANTA ANA EXCHANGE CLUB DEFEATS NEWPORT

The Santa Ana Exchange club scored a 50 to 13 victory over the Newport Golf Exchange club in a handicap golf tournament at the Santa Ana Country club links yesterday.

William Rohrbacker and Kemp Taylor (S.A.) won from C. H. Way and G. C. McLead (Newport).

J. L. Ainsworth and Stuart Cundiff, (Newport) defeated E. C. Pettitt and Dr. John Wehrly (Santa Ana).

Gene Hayes and Dr. James Farrange (Santa Ana) beat H. H. Williamson and C. F. Crawford (Newport).

Charles Swanner and Frank Koss (Santa Ana) won from R. R. Hodgkinson and Lew H. Wallace (Newport).

Eugene Fenelon and Dr. G. M. Grundy (Newport) defeated John Martell and Stanley Clem, (Santa Ana).

Col. Theodore Roosevelt, his brother, Kermit, and Snydam Cutting are enroute to southeastern Asia's unexplored regions. They hope to get a golden monkey which is rumored to inhabit the higher reaches of the Burmese jungle, as well as to "take" a gold colored muckoo living in the highest Himalaya peaks.

Kansas, U. C. Cage Squads To Tangle

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 28.—In intersectional athletic rivalry of another variety, basketball, will take the floor here January 3-4-5, when football has vanished for a year. The rivals will be the University of California and the University of Kansas. The Bears will depend on speed to win against the Kansas quintet, rated among the best in the "Big Six."

Detroit, Mich., has one of the finest privately owned polo fields in the United States. It is on the estate of Marvin Harrison and $8000 was spent on the "floor" alone to lay the best grass procurable.

COLLEGE SPORT DIRECTORS GET DOWN TO WORK

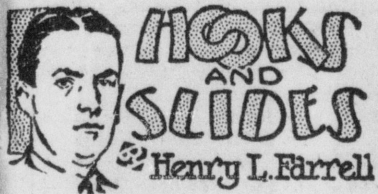

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 28.—A spirited contest between Dr. Palmer E. Pierce, incumbent, and S. V. Sanford, of Georgia, for the presidency of the National Collegiate Athletic association loomed today as the association's annual conference drew towards an end.

The National Association of Football Coaches, meeting with the N. C. A. A., held its first session today. The members were scheduled to receive several drastic proposals to alter the present gridiron rules. However, opposition was lined up for each.

The proposals likely will include a revision on the ruling on the point after touchdown, advocating its discontinuance; making a fumbled ball "dead" at the point of recovery; providing that the ball be placed in play at the start of the third quarter at the point it lay when the quarter ended.

The first session of the N. C. A. A. was held yesterday behind closed doors.

The executive committee of the N. C. A. A. awarded the sixth annual swimming championship tournament to Washington university, St. Louis, March 29-30.

he waived out of the major leagues, there seems to be something peculiar about the magnates' sense of valuation.

The Indians are drawn into the case merely to illustrate the case of Aldridge. Maybe the Indians didn't want him and maybe the 14 other clubs didn't want him when the Giants put him up. But it seems that four or five clubs could use him.

Some smart baseball men, however, do not think it is peculiar or strange. They profess to see through it thoroughly and they hold up the former Pittsburgh and New York pitcher as a victim of the disciplinary hand of baseball.

Coming at the time it did, the definite release of Aldridge to the Newark International league club gave the magnates something to hold over any of their young men who may balk on terms.

TEETH IN THEM RULES

More than a year ago when Boston wasn't such a good spot on the money map, Ace Hudkins fought Al Mello and lost on a foul. The Massachusetts boxing commission suspended him, but the Ace had his dough and he left the town laughing at the commission. He would never want to go back to the Boston sticks again and he didn't care.

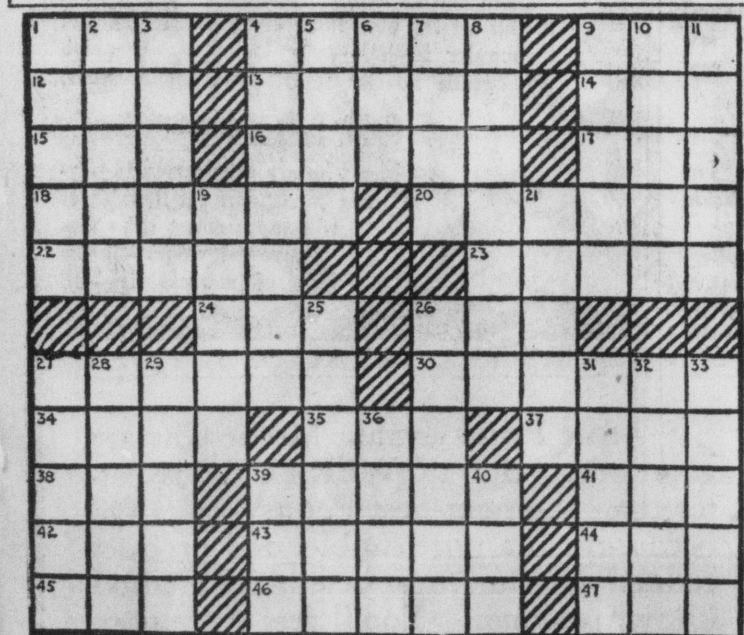

Since the new Garden was built in Boston the town has been removed from the financial sticks. Good dough and important dough can now be commanded by the boxers in Boston and Hudkins wanted some of that dough.

Yes, he was willing to accept a match for the proper money, he told the promoters there and they offered him the proper money.

Then the commission had a memory. "Hudkins is suspended in this state," the commission said. "Aw, that was a long time ago. Let's forget it," Hudkins said. "Yes, it was a long time ago," the commissioners said. "But a lifetime is longer and we set you down for life."

HAGEN FAVORED IN LONG BEACH GOLF TOURNEY

BY E. W. KRAUCH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONG BEACH, Calif., Dec. 28.—

The "Halg" is serious! Yes, lads and lassies of goldfom, Mr. Walter Hagen is just a wee bit anxious. Therefore, permit us to step to the front with the bold prediction that Hagen will be the next Long Beach Open golf champion.

Hagen stands an A-1 chance of leading the rest of the boys to the wire for the first prize money in the $500 Long Beach tourney which formally and officially opened here today.

Hagen was slated to tee off at the Long Beach municipal links this afternoon in a high-powered threesome with Charley Guest of the Tam O'Shanter club of Detroit and Charles Ward of Brentwood, Los Angeles, as his playing partners.

Leo Diegel, the National P. G. A. champion, was paired with Fay Coleman, Southern California amateur champ, and Bob Macdonald of Chicago, while Mehlhorn was to start with Mortie Dutra of Tacoma, Wash., and George Lance, of Los Angeles. Diegel and Mehlhorn tied for first honors in the Long Beach championship last year so were out to show the natives that they have lost none of their par-shooting capacities.

Two surprises came today when George Von Elm, the ex-national amateur titleholder, and Bobby Cruickshank, winner of the second Los Angeles Open appeared on the scene of action ready to tee off.

Both arrived in Los Angeles late yesterday and immediately notified tournament officials that they would be on hand for the local event. Von Elm has been in Salt Lake City for the past three weeks visiting his parents, while Cruickshank was in the East with relatives for the Christmas holidays. Both look to be in the very pink of condition.

One of the most closely watched players today is T. L. Cotton, the youthful London professional. Cotton has shown but little thus far in American tournaments, but nearly all the pros are predicting a great future for him.

Allocate 551 Channels for Private Uses

Allocate 551 Channels for Private Uses

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Use of radio by commercial companies in a more extensive plan of public communication is a step nearer reality following the allocation of 551 of the 630 radio channels between 1500 and 6000 kilometers to various applicants by the federal radio commission.

United Press Wireless, Inc., and 10 other press associations and newspapers were allotted 20 of these channels for transmitting news.

The commission allocated 73 channels to marine services, 64 to aviation services, five to railroads, six to portable stations, 134 to amateurs, 100 to visual broadcast, four to experiment stations and 70 to commercial point-to-point services. The government reserved 95 channels and 88 are in controversy between the United States and other North American nations.

The Universal Wireless corporation was authorized to construct transmitting stations in 110 cities. Existing stations of the Radio Corporation of America and the Mackay Radio and Telegraph company were not disturbed by the commission.

TURNER ALSO S. A. AGENT FOR EDISON

The Turner Radio company announced today that it had been named Santa Ana representative, with the Carl Strock Jewelry company, for the Edison radio, successor to the Spiltdorf.

Edison and Spiltdorf were manufactured separately until a couple of weeks ago, when the Edison interests took over the Spiltdorf organization and discontinued the Spiltdorf line. Up until that time Turner handled the Spiltdorf and Strock the Edison.

Fire Fighters Prepare To Entertain State Meeting

AUXILIARY TO COUNTY BODY IS ORGANIZED

Organization of an auxiliary of the Orange County Firemen's association by women relatives of members of the association featured the meeting, in the American Legion hall, last night, of the fire fighters.

Co-operation with the men in preparing and executing the program for entertainment of the 1929 convention of the California State Firemen's association, in Fullerton, August 7, 8 and 9, was the incentive for creation of the auxiliary.

Mrs. D. R. Davis, wife of Chief Davis, of Fullerton, was chosen to head the unit and Mrs. Grover Walters, of the same city, was selected as secretary. For the present the women will meet once a month, their sessions being coincident with those of the men's organization. Mrs. A. L. Tombelson, Orange; Mrs. Robert Bushnell, Laguna Beach, and Mrs. Homer J. McCormack, Santa Ana, were named as a committee on constitution and by-laws.

Must Co-operate
 W. A. Meyers, of Los Angeles, president of the state association; W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, district representative of the president; Ray Leach, secretary of the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce, and W. A. Fuller, former battalion chief of the Pasadena department, stressed the necessity of full co-operation by the women to make the convention the success the host association anticipates. The four speakers also emphasized the point that the firemen's association should at once appoint an executive committee for initiating at an early date work that will be essential in the development of details of the convention program.

The committee is to be created by each fire department identified with the association naming a representative. The first meeting of the executive committee will be held with Leach on Tuesday night, January 15, at a place to be designated by the Fullerton Chamber of Commerce secretary. Raising of funds for the convention will be one of the first important considerations and it was revealed at the meeting that it is possible the funds will be raised through advertising in a special issue of the California State Firemen's Association Journal. J. C. Gettling, director of the publication, was present and assured association members that with proper co-operation by the different departments in Orange county he could raise the money needed for the annual state conference entertainment program. The sum needed is estimated at between $4000 and $5000.

Talks on Referendum

In his address to the firemen, President Meyers gave emphasis to a statement that the association officers would follow the dictates of members as expressed in a referendum vote on the question of whether the association should use its endeavor for state legislation on the proposal to impose a two per cent tax on insurance companies for the creation of a pension fund for firemen. He pointed out that balloting on the referendum closes on December 31 and he urged that members who have not voted to do so at once.

The county association discussed the advisability of establishing a meeting date, the discussion ending finally in a carried motion that in future the department extending an invitation to the association to be its guest set the date of the meeting at the time the invitation is given. Brea was named as the host city for a meeting of the association on January 31.

A dinner served by the American Legion auxiliary preceded the meeting. W. C. Fox, president, presided. During the service of the dinner a group of songs were sung by Ed Marble, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Richardson. The Fattee trio, composed of Miss Gladys Carpenter, Miss Richardson and Bryan Riggs, entertained with instrumental numbers.

Mrs. Bruce passed away at the Anaheim sanitarium yesterday. She had been in the city for the past six months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Sawyer, 115 East Wilhelmina street. The baby, born Wednesday, passed away early this morning.

Mrs. Bruce is survived by her husband, A. P. Bruce; two brothers and a sister and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Berlitz, who live in Akron, Ohio.

LONDON, Dec. 28.—"Twas a heavenly crew that assembled at the Willesden police court for advice recently. Three applicants, entering the court, were named Suintly, Paradise, and Angell.

LAW SHATTERS HER DREAM

Attachment proceedings in the amount of $1000 ended the dream of a fine arts school in a French chateau that was planned by the Countess de Taurine, the former Mrs. J. M. Flanagan, wife of a Wichita, Kas., undertaker. A creditor's suit resulted in attachment of all the countess' belongings except the clothes she wore. The countess, a former singer in this country and abroad, was associated in promotion of "a $23,000,000 fine arts school" in a chateau deeded to her, along with the title, by a Frenchman she interested in her plan.

Mrs. Burdick had been a resident of La Habra for the past nine years and a resident of California for the past 10 years coming to this state from Joplin, Mo. She was an active member of the La Habra Baptist church. The pastor of the church, the Rev. E. M. Hulbert, will conduct the services.

GIRLS ARE CAUGHT FOLLOWING ESCAPE

Three young girls, prisoners in the county detention home, escaped early last night only to be rearrested three hours later, soon after they had reached Los Angeles, the probation office announced today. The girls, whose names were not revealed, went to the kitchen to aid in washing dishes. They ran out the back door and over the back fence.

DRIVER'S FACE BRUISED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Walter Vander Brugger, 18, son of W. J. Vander Brugger, 211 East Twentieth street, suffered severe bruises about the face and six other persons in the car he was driving were shaken up when the machine overturned in the Brea canyon, two miles from Brea, late yesterday afternoon.

Young Vander Brugger was treated in the Santa Ana Valley hospital.

Others in the machine who were slightly injured were Catherine, Peggy and Jacob Vander Brugger, Mrs. W. J. Vander Brugger and Ben Chase and Marvin Chase, all of Santa Ana.

The accident occurred when a tire on the car blew out, causing the machine to overturn on the highway, according to the report of the accident.

WILLARD OPERETTA RAISES OVER $250

"An outstanding success, both artistically and financially," emphatically declared W. S. Kellogg, principal of the Frances Willard junior high school, in regard to the recent production of the annual operetta, "The Ghost of Lollypop Bay."

Over $250 was raised at the performances of the musical production in the high school auditorium, stated Kellogg.

Part of this amount will be used to pay for a radio recently installed in the school. The remainder of the money will be used in the music department of the school.

"We are especially gratified with the results of our production of the Charles Wakefield Cadman operetta and we wish to thank both the general public and those who were instrumental in the staging of the show for the fine response," Kellogg declared.

Woman's Clubhouse In Orange Is Setting For Dance

One of the most delightful of the season's holiday affairs was the annual Pan-Hellenic Christmas dance that was held last night in the Woman's clubhouse at Orange.

The attractive ball room in the clubhouse lent itself in charming fashion to the gay yuletide decorations of bright holly and cotton-wool and to the gleaming Christmas tree. The soft glow of shaded lights was brightened by the pretty frocks of the many college girls, who with their escorts took advantage of the affair to meet and renew acquaintances with high school friends who since have entered other institutions.

Jack Gledhill's popular orchestra provided music for the succession of fox trots, one steps, and waltzes enjoyed throughout the evening.

Punch was served by the refreshment committee that included Mrs. Hattie Hupp, chairman, Mrs. G. C. Ruble, Mrs. Robert Budrow, Miss Clara Marks, and Miss Violet Felker.

Patrons and patronesses of the dance were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank, Mr. and Mrs. John Tressmann, Mrs. Robert Northcross, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Delmire.

Newcomb Family Enjoys Delightful Reunion

Four generations of the W. F. Newcomb family attended an annual Christmas reunion at the residence at 1717 South Van Ness avenue Christmas day.

Mrs. Mary C. Rittenhouse, mother of Mrs. W. F. Newcomb, 87 years of age, who attended the affair, lays claim to being one of the few great-grandmothers in Santa Ana. Five of Mrs. Rittenhouse's great-grandchildren attended the reunion.

Little Diana Smith, six weeks old, of Chicago, is the great-grandchild. Diana also has seven grandparents, a record seldom attained by any child.

Three of the little girl's grandparents reside in Santa Ana. They are Mrs. Rittenhouse, and Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Newcomb.

Mrs. Rittenhouse recently arrived here from Washington where she has made her home for the past year. At the present she is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Newcomb.

Franzen-Steele Wedding Dignified Event of Last Night

Very lovely and dignified was the wedding of Miss Mabel Franzen, daughter of Mrs. Mary Franzen of Tustin avenue, this city, and John Steele of Clifton, Arizona, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Steele of Garden Grove, that took place last night at Bridges hall, Pomona college.

The marriage service was read by the Rev. N. L. Pierson, former pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Orange, who took his place in front of the simple altar, arranged against the deep blue curtain that veils the stage in the chapel and flanked on either side by graceful baskets of scarlet poinsettias.

Mr. Steele, accompanied by Victor Parker, also of Clifton, entered the chapel with the Rev. Mr. Pierson and waited at the altar for his bride who came down the aisle up on the arm of her brother, George Franzen, who gave her in marriage. The bride's lovely dress of white tulle and the long graceful veil that was held to her head with a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white sweet peas that she sent to Mrs. J. A. Steele later in the evening.

For Mrs. Steele was ill at a Long Beach hospital and unable to attend the wedding. Miss Louane Leach of Orange, who was the bride's only attendant wore an orchid satin frock, tulle ruffled, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas while the tiny flower girl, little Miss Alice Darbey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Darbey of Long Beach, was robed in pink satin with tulle ruffles. Small Neal Smith, nephew of the bride, brave in black velvet with a white silk blouse, served as ring bearer.

The beautiful wedding music included two lovely songs, "Carole Selva" and "A Birthday" by Miss Hazel Smith of this city who is well known here for her sweet voice, and Miss Hilda Suydam of Tustin who played two organ selections preceding the ceremony, swinging into the Lohengrin Wedding March as the bridal party entered the chapel and continuing with the muted strains of "Be-cause" during the ceremony.

The wedding reception was held in Rembrandt hall which was beautifully decorated with quantities of pink sweet peas. Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Miss Leach and Mr. Parker, were in the receiving line and after the guests had been greeted by the bride she cut the large white wedding cake which was served with wedding ices by the girl scouts of troupe 1, of the Tustin grammar school under the direction of Miss Irene Catland and Mrs. Anna Slater. The young girls were very pretty in their pastel tinted frocks.

Immediately after the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Steele left for Long Beach where they spent a few hours with Mrs. Steele's mother before leaving for a honeymoon trip to the Grand canyon. The bride chose a becoming brown flat crepe frock with brown velvet jacket and other accessories to harmonize, for her going away costume. The young people will be at home in Clifton, where Mr. Steele is teaching in the high school.

Mrs. Steele is a graduate of Pomona college and for the past year and one-half she has been teaching in the Tustin grammar school. Her husband is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley.

FAIRER THAN PICTURES

Since art always has come first in Bernice Ackerman's life, it was only logical that she should lose her heart to an artist. As a co-ed at the University of Kansas, Bernice worked her way through school by teaching dancing. Then she won a scholarship in painting and went east to study at Provincetown, Mass. But so much fairer was she than the pictures she painted that she took a role in the Ziegfeld Follies. Recently Miss Ackerman has been the prima donna of the famed Marx Brothers' Broadway show. Now she's to marry Lester Martin, New York artist whom she met at one of her own painting exhibitions.

Delicious Soups to Offset Rich Holiday Foods

I think today is an opportune time to offer these two soup recipes, for surely the one on whom the cooking falls must be deadly weary of so much rich, fatty food. Both soups are sufficiently nourishing to serve as the important dish of the meal; a nice salad and dessert is sufficient to serve with either recipe.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Lima Bean Soup

1 cup dried lima beans
6 cups cold water
1 small onion, diced
1 carrot, diced
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cold milk
1 cup hot milk
Salt and pepper.

Soak the lima beans over night, drain and rinse in the morning, set to cook in the six cups of water, together with the carrot and onion. It will take several hours of simmering to cook the beans down soft enough to press through a sieve. Do this, measure, and add enough hot water to make up the original six cups of liquid.

Melt and blend the butter and flour, cook to a thick sauce with the cup of cold milk, then add to the bean puree and reheat. Just before the soup is served add the cup of hot milk.

There are five large servings in this recipe, each with a calorie total of 200. Lima beans have a high protein content, as valuable as beefsteak when we find the beans combined with milk-protein. A fruit salad would serve the problem of both salad and dessert.

Chicken Curry Soup

1 diced onion
3 tablespoons butter
1 sour apple, diced
A sprig each of thyme, parsley and bay leaf
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
4 cups chicken broth
2 cups water
3-4 cup hot boiled rice
1 rounded tablespoon flour.

Dice the onion and fry it gently in butter, add the diced apple and all the seasonings, including the curry powder. Cook for 15 minutes in the broth and water, then press through a sieve.

Re-heat and thicken slightly with the flour blended in cold water, add the hot rice and keep warm until served.

FLU is now Epidemic!

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub. Over 432,000 jars are now being produced daily.

How best to use Vick's VapoRub

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks also acts through the skin like a poultice. Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks. Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

The WOMAN'S DAY

by ALLENE SUMNER

Quite a to-do is made about the adoption of two little Chicago girls by their great-aunt, the Marchioness of Huntley. The children, Isabelle and Marjorie Meuser, 10 and 9, daughters of a middle-class, low-salaried man who died a few months ago, have left for their new home, a governess has been hired for them, and they are all set to become ladies of the nobility.

FINE AND DANDY

One wonders just what the little girls think about it. They probably think it's all "hot stuff" and "perfectly swell." Children, of course, get their values from their elders, and since their elders assume that being raised by nobility is a consummation devoutly to be wished, the kids'll think it, too. Just try telling them or their elders that their happiest hours have been up to the present as free, independent, middle-class kids, with nobody caring nor nagging as to just how they quirked their fingers around a cup!

We blent about our democracy, but there are few parents in this realm who wouldn't leap at the chance to obtain these same "advantages" for their children.

WHAT OF IT?

No less to-do is made at the discovery that a Lady Somebody or Other from England has been clerking in a New York store. The lady explained that she "wanted a thrill." We've heard so much about the blase moneyed society woman who seeks diversion by earning her own living that we wonder why it should be news any more.

It's probably always news because most of us work, willy nilly, and, that being so, we can't understand the psychology of people who do it for fun. "Thrills" from the job are probably glimpsed more easily when one can afford to take time off from the job to look for them and respond to them, knowing that it doesn't much matter whether one is fired or not.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Now, do be careful," Jack Frost cried. "As all those heavy boards are piled, you might scratch up your engine. That would spoil the looks of it. Do things the best way, not the worst. Try pulling out the long nails first. Then, as you lift the board right off, it won't be harmed a bit."

Then Carpy chimed in, "Just watch me, and you will very plainly see that I know how to unpack things that come boxed up like this. I am a carpenter, you know, and I go at things safe and slow. Whenever you use too much speed, something's bound to go amiss."

So all the bunch stood back a while, and old Jack Frost began to smile to see how careful Carpy was. "You're very good," said he. "The others better watch, and stay bawled between feet, out of your way. If you need help I'm very glad to have you call on me."

"That's very kind," said Carpy. "But I'm sure that I'll get in no rut. Why, I have torn whole houses down, with no one to assist. 'Ha, ha,' laughed Clowny. 'You're a scream. What you just said is just a dream.' But Carpy worked right on, and not a single nail was missed.

At last the boards were all torn free, and Scouty jumped and shouted, "Gee! I've never seen such a engine. This is one of our best treats. We surely ought to all feel proud. It has a bell that rings real loud. And look! There's room for all of us. It has two dandy seats."

"Well, hurry lads, and climb inside," said Jack Frost. "You will shortly ride. And I must soon be going. I have little time to waste."

So, as the Tiniest climbed aboard, old Jack Frost jumped and loudly roared, "Good-bye," and then he disappeared within the Toyland gate.

Your Children

By Olive Roberts Barton

"Every pair of shoes I buy for Johnny costs more than the last," says Johnny's mother to his father. "If it keeps on I won't be able to buy clothes for myself. It really costs more to dress children nowadays than it does grownups."

Johnny's father discusses expenses with Uncle Ben after dinner on Sunday.

"Well," remarks his father when Uncle Ben tells him that he has saved a fourth of his salary during the year, bought a car, and is thinking of giving Aunt Louise a diamond ring for Christmas. "You couldn't do that if you had children. Mary and I can't save a thing. The minute we think we can, Johnny here has to have a new suit or the baby gets sick or something. And of course our food costs double what yours does. Our milk bill alone is—"

And because he is too little to understand that he himself is compensation enough for all sacrifices on the part of his parents, this little boy is absorbing very fast the idea that he is greatly to blame for their troubles.

It makes him very unhappy. And it is probably the most direct cause of his inferiority complex. He goes around with a feeling of guilt. He has no right to be wearing things and eating things and drinking milk when it is making his mother and father worry. Just because he's there his mother can't have rings and pretty clothes and a car, like Aunt Louise's, and his father can't go on hunting trips like Uncle Ben.

It is a bad habit for parents to discuss the burden of expense before children. They also will have to get over the old idea that children don't notice things—that discussions seemingly over their heads fail to register in small minds.

Dr. Adler, the famous Viennese behaviorist, lays most human failings to inferiority complex in childhood. "All training should lead children away from the unhappiness caused by that complex," he says.

One of the greatest causes of this unhappiness is for a child to feel that he is a burden and an expense.

EAT THE THEATRE

YOST'S BROADWAY

One of the outstanding motion pictures of the year is the First National film, "Companionate Marriage," which opened an engagement at the Broadway theatre last night. It is a picture which every person interested in the institution of marriage should make it a point to see. It clears up, through the telling of a powerful, human and very dramatic story, the theory of companionate marriage, as a remedy for matrimonial ills, advanced by the noted judge of Denver's juvenile court, Judge Ben B. Lindsey, in his much-discussed book, "The Companionate Marriage." It contrasts a happy "companionate marriage" with two very wretched marriages occurring under the present laws regarding matrimony.

Betty Bronson and Richard Walling supply the main love interest as the companionate couple and make a clean, likeable, typically American young couple. Miss Bronson has not been seen to better advantage since her emergence into the limelight with her screen "Peter Pan." The entire cast deserves a special word of praise for effective, and dramatic performances—Alec B. Francis, who is co-featured, as the Judge, with Miss Bronson, Hedda Hopper, Sarah Pedden, Edward Martindel, William J. Welsh and Arthur Rankin. A screen newcomer, eighteen-year-old June Nash, gives a truly remarkable performance as the jazz-mad girl who gets married as a part of a cabaret show.

WEST COAST-WALKER

Trying to make a movie set out of San Quentin prison almost landed Charles F. ("Chuck") Reisner, film director, in jail in earnest. He and his staff had to build their own "hoosegow" after a strenuous session in which the real state's prison declined to go into films. Preparing to film "Brotherly Love," the comedy co-starring Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, showing today and tomorrow at the Walker theatre, Reisner went to San Quentin and outlined his plans to Warden James B. Holohan.

"Dane will play a prison guard and Arthur a convict," the director explained. "And we'll get a lot of extras to wear prison uniforms and play the convicts."

"What?" roared Holohan. "Fill my jail full of movie extras in prison clothes—so when they walk out all the cons can walk out with 'em? I don't know whether the dark cell on bread and water or the strait-jack is the thing for you guys!" The director and his staff decided that just about then was the time for saying goodbye and journeying quickly forth from San Quentin.

As a result, a complete prison was built at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios for the picture, and in it the new comedy, a satirical story of prison life in a reform era, was staged.

WEST END

The last chance to see Santa Ana's favorite western screen star, Tom Mix, in "Son of the Golden West," was given that theater's patrons today, for Tom's latest starring vehicle closes its local engagement with tonight's performances. It is by far the most thrilling of all his pictures to date, and a beautiful love story runs through the picture. Tony and his master have many a narrow escape and as will be expected win out. It is a story of the west during the cattle era when men carried guns for their own protection as well as their property.

Crowds that saw the excellent program yesterday exceeded any that have ever attended the West End, and with this the closing day of his engagement the crowd should break all records at the newly renovated "Family Theater." Coming Saturday for one day only with a continuous show starting at 2 p. m. and running until 11 p. m. is the greatest picture of all time, "Ben Hur." The

NEW DIVISIONS OF GOVERNMENT ARE ADVOCATED

By ED JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Special to The Register)

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 28.—The new grand divisions of California's government were under discussion in the capitol corridors today.

One was a department of commerce, built along the lines of Herbert Hoover's U. S. department of commerce.

The other would be known as the "Department of Veterans and Military Affairs." It was proposed to administer the California national guard, the veterans' welfare board, the women's relief corps, the State Athletic commission and the Mountview home for veterans.

It will be backed by service men's organizations at the coming legislature, according to Keith Carlin, executive secretary to Gov. C. C. Young.

The department of commerce proposal was brought up by Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden at a meeting of the farm bloc comprising about 20 per cent of the lower house.

Crittenden's suggestion was made in connection with the state trademark plan when the latter came up for discussion at the meeting called to discuss legislation of interest to rural counties of the state.

The projected department would embrace the functions of a division of banks, a division of building and loan supervision, a division of corporations, a division of real estate and a division of insurance. In event of its adoption by the legislature, the state trademark would be administered from this department.

Crittenden's proposal was countered by privately by the chief of one of the strongest departments in the state government.

"Some objections have been raised," this department chief said, "that the department of commerce would interfere with the work of the departments of finance or of the department of agriculture. This would not be the case. The new department would act in an advisory capacity while the other two are administrative and regulatory respectively."

Other leaders suggested that the new department, diplomatically handled so as to assist rather than dictate to business, would be a great boon to the agricultural and industrial interests of the state.

WOMAN LEADS AGAIN

PARIS, Dec. 28.—Local airway companies are disposed to believe that the "weaker" sex has more nerve than her brother. Witness their travel figures which indicate that five of every nine passengers are women. Many women, they say, fly between Paris and London merely to attend dinner parties, and when they hop from the plane they are dressed ready to step into the drawing room.

Many Deaths Due To Influenza And Pneumonia In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—(INS)—Nearly 9000 persons died from influenza and pneumonia between November 3 and December 22, according to statistics for 78 large cities made public by the census bureau today.

Influenza claimed 2004 victims and pneumonia 6963. Just what per cent of the pneumonia followed influenza could not be determined.

At the same time the public health service reported 240,562 new cases of influenza for the week ending December 22. Representing about one-fifth of the actual cases this means the epidemic on that date exceeded 1,300,000 cases and discloses that by today there are probably more than 3,000,000 afflicted persons in the United States.

THEY SHALL NOT PASS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 28.—Police here must figuratively "stay in their own back yard." U. S. Commissioner Turnage recently handed down a decision that District of Columbia police cannot chase liquor peddlers across the line into neighboring states. This opens the way for action against four local policemen who arrested a rum runner in Maryland after a chase.

It is said that mushrooms will not grow on land which has been treated with artificial fertilizer.

"Thanks, but it's no trick."
"Oh, but it is. You don't know how hard I've tried."
"Well, of course, we always use M-J-B. We've served it, for almost thirty years."

Many people find that with M-J-B, the strong blend, they use slightly less coffee than with other blends. But whether you make it strong or weak, M-J-B has a flavor that only the strong blend can give.

Now it comes to you vacuum-sealed in the new, tall key-can. Both the vacuum process and the improved key-can belong exclusively to the M-J-B Company and are available only to M-J-B users.

BAUMGARTNER TALKS BEFORE REALTY BOARD

An address by J. P. Baumgartner and an announcement by Asa Hoffman, new president, featured the meeting at noon today of the Santa Ana Realty board.

Baumgartner made the general observation that in his opinion money is being wasted in community advertising by many communities. With respect to Santa Ana and other county cities, he expressed the belief that co-operation with the All-Year club and the California Development company would result in greater returns for money invested in this type of community boosting.

Use of the board's appraisal committee in placing values on local properties at the request of parties outside of the community was strongly endorsed by Baumgartner, who suggested that, possibly, banks also might find it ad-visible to refer to the appraisal committee requests they receive from persons wanting information of this character on local property.

John Knox officiated as program chairman, being the first man to develop special entertainment in the new plan of President Hoffman to have a definite program for each meeting.

The committees named by Hoffman were as follows:

EXCHANGE MANAGER IN OFFICE JAN. 15

Secrecy surrounds the identity of the new secretary-manager of the Orange County Builders' exchange, officials of the organization declining today to announce the name of the man selected to take the place of Morris Shelton, resigned.

Shelton held the office for the past 18 months, coming here from the northwest, where he was engaged in the building business.

The new secretary-manager is engaged in business here and will not be able to assume his new duties until January 15, according to William Tway, past president.

DELHI MAN JAILED ON STILL CHARGE

Following the finding of small whiskey still in a dog house on the property of P. Ocegura, in Delhi, this afternoon, sheriff's officers, led by F. W. Howard, chief criminal deputy sheriff, arrested Ocegura and he is being held in the county jail on a charge of possession of a still. A barrel of mash was found in the house with a small quantity of liquor, officers said. The still was in operation at the time of the raid, it was said.

Beware of Diets to reduce

Medical authorities warn that reducing has gone too far

MEDICAL authorities are becoming alarmed at the extent to which American girls, women and men are reducing their weight by starvation diets. This has gone too far, they say, and in many cases is resulting in permanent injury.

One famous doctor says: "Starving leads to anemia, which may become so persistent that the tissues are no longer able to form blood in the proper way, even when sufficient food is subsequently supplied to them, and a state of actual starvation throughout life may result." "This," he goes on to say, "is because any method which defeats nature, long carried out, produces disease changes in the body which frequently become permanent."

Another error is the belief by some that sugar in the diet is the only cause of overweight. This is not true. Any food that is nourishing is fattening and nature should be allowed to store a certain amount of fat in the tissues as a reserve supply of energy when it is needed. Don't undereat; it is dangerous. Eat enough of a great variety of foods and enjoy them. Remember that nothing adds so much enjoyment to other foods as sugar. Sweetness is nature's ideal flavor and modern sugar is food in its least expensive form. Put one cup of sugar in the water used for boiling ham and notice the improvement in appetizing flavor. Be sure of tasteful variety in food. The Sugar Institute.

Your favorite cakes will be alike as twins, if you use Sperry Drifted Snow Flour.

The same smooth grain, the same "silky" texture every time—because Drifted Snow is uniform, sack after sack.

MORE WAR SECRETS OUT

When the Revolutionary government of Russia opened the archives, and revealed the secret treaties between the allies in the World war, as well as the diplomatic correspondence carried on just before and just after the beginning of the conflict, we began to find out that it was not such a holy war as we had been led to believe. The new government in Germany, after the downfall and exile of the Kaiser, also opened up some secrets concerning the Central Powers. Little by little the whole secret maneuverings of all the nations have been coming out, and the high ideals for which the war was supposed to have been fought have disappeared. The lust for land, the desire to keep down some nations and reduce them to impotence, the spirit of revenge, and all the evil machinations of national self-interests—these were the dark spectres masquerading behind fervid patriotism and love of democracy.

The last revelation has come from our own state department. Just why the secrets of the war correspondence have been released by our government at this time is everybody's guess. But that it had some other motive than to let in light upon the tangled mass of contradictory facts which have been floating aimlessly about is something more than an idle opinion. Much of the correspondence between the President and the State Department with our diplomatic representatives abroad has been anticipated by the letters of Ambassador Page, published some years ago, and by the writings of Ambassador Gerard, who was our representative in Berlin during the first years of the war. But now we have the definite facts brought out into the full light of day.

This release by our State Department only serves to confirm what has been a growing conviction that pretty much all the nations were tarred with the same stick. If our own nation comes out of the affair whiter than all the rest, it is because we either were fooled or we had not so much at stake as the other nations involved. In the communications of all ministers and ambassadors there is the same story of dickering, the same jockeying for position, the same desire to jump in whatever direction would bring the selfish results desired. Belgium was perfectly willing to quit if Germany would withdraw her troops from her borders. Italy jockeyed with France, with England, with Austria and with Germany, and finally jumped to the allied cause. Russia had Constantinople all sewed up, with complete control in the Balkan region. Bulgaria dickered with both sides, and jumped to the side of the Central Powers because the offer from the Allied Powers came a little late. Roumania had no interest save to get something from Bulgaria, and her hopes lay only in the direction of the Allied cause.

So it went on until the Revolution in Russia tipped over the whole kettle, and revealed the character of the unholy broth that had been cooked up. Whatever of real idealism was injected into the war was injected by our own government. But in the main features of the settlement, Woodrow Wilson was defeated at Versailles by those who had done the jockeying at the beginning. Those who had bargained demanded their pound of flesh, and most of them got it. Of course, some good came out of it all. The breaking of the military spirit of Germany, the opening of the Straits, the liberation of subject peoples from hateful tyrannies, and many other things came out of the conflict; but that was incidental; it was not the main purpose. This we know, that if the facts were known in 1914 and immediately after, as they are known now, the peoples of the different nations would never have consented to the terrific waste and slaughter. We hope our readers have examined in detail the secrets revealed by our State Department.

If you think that gold isn't very commonly used as a welding material, you ought to visit the divorce courts and observe the way it mends broken hearts.

THE OBLIGATIONS OF CITIZENSHIP

Both private enterprise and public service are important to the success of the community. The question arises, where should one's service to his community begin as something apart from his private affairs? Both are interwoven into the fabric called achievement. Under our complex mode of living it would be difficult to define the relationship between what a man owes to himself and family on the one hand, and what he owes to society on the other.

One may become ever so successful so far as acquiring wealth is concerned, and yet not leave to the community or to posterity anything by which to advance the cause of civilization or which will add to the comfort and convenience of those outside his own family circle. Another may have given his best to mankind—left a monument of good works—without having accumulated sufficient wealth to provide for himself a decent burial. But both serve. One serves his nearest and dearest interests, selfish as it may seem; the other spreads the seeds of good in a more abstract manner, making it more difficult, perhaps, to point out his accomplishments, yet doing the things that make their influence felt in the whole community.

The public welfare is enhanced both by public service and private endeavor. Where is reward but in service? Whether king or slave, every man gives to the world only as much as he wills and works. It is not how much we make, but how much we serve; not how much we speak, but how much of ourselves we give. These determine much we love; not how much we save, but how whether our names go down as having done our share. In humble capacities, in great stations of power and influence, the ratio of success and failure never varies nor fails to register itself upon the chart of life. Private enterprise may well represent public aspiration if it so engages itself that what it does, how it does, and why it exists measure true to the interests it seeks to serve.

A STAR TO FOLLOW

It is refreshing to chronicle something different in Hollywood. The news almost daily, from that colony, is of fist fights over women, drunken and licentious parties, and utter lack of conventions in conjugal relations, and rapid fire divorces and remarriage.

Now comes the news of the untimely death of Fred Thompson. We did not know him, one of the Hollywood "stars." No breath of scandal seems to have attached itself to him. His life and influence in Hollywood was the same as it was while studying theology at Princeton, and while a Presbyterian pastor at Reno. He was a graduate of Occidental—a product of a small Christian college. He no doubt laid the foundations of his upright life while imbibing learning with Christian professors. He did not forget or cease to practice the things he learned.

An outstanding athlete and full of the joy of living, he was a fine example to boys everywhere, and particularly to the Boy Scouts with whom he loved to work.

He died with an expression of love for his wife upon his lips. He left his estate to his mother and his son at the request of his wife, as she said she had enough for her own.

We have always believed there were good men and women in the movie colony of Hollywood. Fred Thompson proved it. No doubt there are many others. The worst always comes to the top in the day's news, and the thousands who live normal lives are not news. We sometimes misjudge even a community by its worst characters because we read only of them.

When President Coolidge was talking about that summer White House, he didn't, by any chance, happen to mention Mississippi, did he?

THE KAISER'S WHISKERS

According to the dispatches, the former German Kaiser has determined to let his whiskers grow until he has been recalled by his people.

We prophesy that they will be growing an exceedingly long time. It reminds us of a statement that a drunken man made in a crowd watching the election returns on election night in 1896. As he staggered up and down in front of the crowd he yelled, "I am not going home until Bryan is elected."

Life Term For Habitual Criminals

San Bernardino Sun

A woman who is the mother of 10 children has been sentenced in Michigan to the penitentiary for life under the habitual criminal act of that state, which makes such a sentence compulsory upon the fourth conviction for felony. She was convicted the fourth time of selling liquor. A man is now serving time under exactly the same circumstances. This has led to much misapprehension and ignorant comment, to the effect that Michigan is sending women to prison for life for selling booze. That is not the case.

New York has had an habitual criminal act for some years, requiring heavier sentences for previous convictions. California has a somewhat similar law. Several other states also are trying to combat the habitual criminal menace in various ways. Michigan copied New York, but made a life sentence compulsory upon a fourth conviction. The act applies to liquor offenses no more than to all others. Any sort of felony conviction counts. It so happens in these two cases that the last felony was a liquor one, and in her case all of them were. If a woman old enough to have 10 children continuously breaks the law is not an habitual criminal, then a new definition is necessary.

It seems that the father is already serving a penitentiary sentence. With such parents the danger of the state having on its hands a whole family of habitual criminals is far from remote. It appears that sale of liquor for support of the children is not necessary. Several of them are old enough to contribute to the family support, but it is more than likely that their training under such conditions has not been of the highest type of citizenship. Michigan is not trying to uphold the prohibition law with life sentences. She is merely trying to check the expanding crime evil, and a family of this sort seems a very likely place to do the checking.

Tests With S-4

New York Times

After the sinking of the submarine S-4 off Provincetown a year ago the charge was made that the Navy department had been delinquent in adopting safety devices proposed by inventors. The answer then made was that most of them were of no use. Even rings attachable to a submarine were pronounced to be impracticable. But the Navy Department has since shown a commendable willingness to test plans for the security of crews.

Nothing could be more convincing than the use of S-4, raised after the disaster, for experimenting. To her hull were fastened "pad eyes" or rings, for shackling with pontoons to demonstrate the worth of the device. Would it hold when the great strain of the derrick haul was applied? S-4 was lowered until she settled on the bottom at a depth of sixty feet, and then the divers of the old salvage ship Falcon went to work.

Progress was slowly made, for it was desirable that every step should give the salvage crews familiarity with the work. It would have been foolish to attempt a record. A good deal of time would always have to be taken to fasten lifting chains about an embedded submarine. The handling of the pontoons when all was ready for raising was a ticklish job. The tests will go on for about fourteen days. One of them is peculiarly technical—the capacity of divers operate from the submerged chamber.

Tourists Demand That Thrills Be Protected

San Francisco Chronicle

French authorities are said to have suppressed the industry of night-life guides who hire cafe bus boys and hotel dishwashers out of hours to pose as the terrible Paris Apaches for the breathless delight of tourists from Bucyrus, Ind., and Catawissa, Mich. That's all very well in its way, but haven't tourists any rights in the matter? The French may say that the Apaches are extinct, but Bucyrus and Catawissa know better. Haven't they seen those same Apaches on the screen? If the French persist in discrimination against our tourists, the State Department will have to institute some reprisals. How about an embargo on the export to France of all cowboy films? That would be about an even break, measured by the reality of the characters portrayed.

THEM THAT HAS GITS

I'm aware that there's plenty of money
Got out of the market today,
Some people I know make a thousand or so
Out of every stock they find it so easy
You might think, when they find it so easy
To pick up abundance of pelf
That I might take a chance in the game of finance
And gather a little myself.

But I always have managed to make the wrong guess;
When the market is going sky high
And the bears are emitting loud cries of distress
Why that is the time that I buy.
While others on turkey and truffles may sup
I sit by my lonesome and frown,
For stocks always go down when they ought to go up
And up when they ought to go down.

A hundred or so on a margin
If the tips that I get should be right,
Might easily make quite a sizeable stake
And fill my lean purse over night.
But I dare not untie the old purse-strings
For I know, though I cannot guess why,
That the gloomy-eyed bears will attempt to get theirs
By raiding the stock that I buy.

Each day I am told of the mountains of gold
That my fortunate friends have raked in,
While I remain sulkily out in the cold
Knowing well that I never shall win.
They laugh as they quaff Lady Luck's honeyed cup
While I sit by my lonesome and frown,
For stocks always go down when they ought to go up
And up when they ought to go down.

THE ART OF INTERVIEWING

One of the recent Hawaiian fliers said that he had learned a good deal about the art of interviewing from his experience. Interviewing is an art and a science, and you have to study before you can master it.

Paul Scott Mowrer, the Parisian correspondent of the Daily News of Chicago, told me once that when you interviewed a man you had to tell him what to say.

People's idea of what a man ought to be and say is rather conventional. It follows certain fixed lines.

If it is an interview of the preacher, the preacher must act up to his part. He must be solemn and ponderous and pious. People will not tolerate a light remark from a man who they think is serious.

Bankers must be what all bankers are supposed to be, and prize fighters must have cauliflower ears and be rough bruisers whether they are or not. George Ade says: "Give the people what they want."

The idea of interviewing is to tell people what they expect to hear, not report the facts as you find them, nor a man's ideas as he expresses them. He must run true to form. If he is a bishop, for instance, with stately tendencies and worldly tastes you must not tell the people about them, but you must put words in his mouth that he ought to speak whether he speaks them or not.

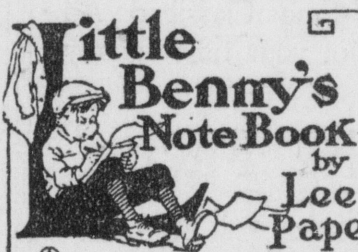

To be a good interviewer you must make a man say what you want him to say. He must have the ideas that you want him to have whether he has them or not.

As a matter of fact great men as well as little men are human. They have all sorts of human foibles.

Perhaps Mrs. Grundy is to blame for our ideas of great men. She is apt to catch hold of any little slip that any of them may make and magnify it. George Washington must not swear when he pounds his finger with the hammer and Abe Lincoln must not tell any Rabelaisian stories. There are so many gray wolves waiting to catch hold of these slips and magnify them unduly.

Every one has weaknesses and we all unite in suppressing the mistakes of those we love.

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

Mr. and Mrs. Hews came to see pop and ma last nite, and pop and Mrs. Hews was smoking and looking up at the ceiling and ma and Mrs. Hews was tawking about different subjects such as how much cooks eat and how much they want to sleep, and weather skirts are going to be higher or lower and about John Barrymore getting married agen, and ma sed, But my goodness this will never do, look at the men, they look bored, Im sure their just itching to tawk politics and tariffs and things, come on over in my room a wile and give them a free rain.

Yes, thats rite, our little trivialities must be agony for them to listen to, Mrs. Hews sed.

O, this and that, Mr. Hews sed, and I sed, I know wat they tawked about, I bet I can remember everything they sed. Ferst they sed you was rite about cooks eating and sleeping so much and Mr. Hews sed he had to make his own cawfee one morning because the cook wouldnt wake up, and then they tawked about ladies skirts still being so short and getting shorter, and Mr. Hews sed he cant get shocked at them any more and stopped trying, and pop sed if they get any shorter now theyll be ruffles, and then they tawked about John Barrymore getting married agen and pop sed some men can stand a lot of punishment.

Well my lands they tawked about exactly the same things that we tawked about, hee hee, ma sed, and Mrs. Hews sed, Heavy thinkers, hee hee.

And they all started to play bridge and I went to bed on account of having to.

A. C. Tiede, secretary of the Santa Ana Valley Walnut Growers' association, stated that because of the reduced tariff on walnuts California growers are forced to sell what remains of this year's crop at little more than one cent a pound. Receipts at the Santa Ana post office between December 15 and December 25 totaled $2970, an increase of $125 over the same period in 1913.

The Santa Ana baseball team was defeated by the Garden Grove team, 3 to 0.

Miss Cora Belt, daughter of Mrs. Susan Belt, of Berrydale, was married to Charles C. Graham of Los Angeles.

WOODROW WILSON

Seventy-two years ago today, in Staunton, Virginia, the mystery of birth gave life to a baby who was destined to grow to the stature of a statesman.

Four years ago, after meeting and missing several appointments with destiny, the broken body and brave spirit of this Virginia baby became a statesman's history knew the extremes of defecation and damnation that came to Woodrow Wilson.

Surely we are far enough from the passion and partisanship that beat about his head, for me, a Republican, in this avowedly non-partisan column, to stop for a moment today to lay a comment upon the tomb of this distinguished leader.

However skeptical of its practicality, none, I think, will care to dispute the spiritual discernment and moral audacity of his dream of a new world in which all nations—large and small—should be freed by self-determination and federated by self-dedication to a world-wide co-operation.

His blue-prints of a federated world may need extensive revision, but his brave faith that a federated world is possible is likely to haunt the councils of diplomacy for a century to come.

Why did not Mr. Wilson climb nearer to his goal? Others have sought for the rusted links in his armor, and have explored his spirit for signs of inherent weaknesses.

I cannot join those who saw in him but an opportunist hawking his wares at Paris. Short of withdrawal from the Peace Conference or a daring appeal to the masses of the world over the heads of their governments, I think he did his best to tune the jangling interests of conflicting nationalism into some sort of harmonious international procedure.

But his best was not equal to the task; and I think his momentary "failure" was a by-product of the sublimity of his dream and his too complete absorption in it.

He had his hour of disillusionment which comes to every high priest of the ideal.

He did not accurately gauge the inertia of his associates, but rather his own shining faith into them. He was impatient of men who temporized, detested diplomacy and thought a straight line was the shortest distance between two points.

The ideal had such compelling power over his own mind that he did not understand men who shrank from its demands.

He too frequently exaggerated the strength of his own side and underrated that of the enemy.

These were poor qualities for a conspirator, and, sad to say, even the servants of the ideal must match wits with men who have the conspirator's technique.

In diplomacy good must still be done by stealth.

DOING

"I'll give you three guesses to tell me what Fred has done now. If that isn't about the most troublesome child ever born I give up."

"Well, what has he done?"

"Gone and built a boat in Simmie's garage. Built it so big that he can't get it out. Simmie is furious. Really that boy will drive me crazy. Last week he told Mrs. French he could fix her dripping faucet and he sets to work and floods the cellar. Mrs. French won't speak to me. A while back he decided that I needed a shelf in the corner of the porch and without saying a word he helped himself to a pile of wood up in the attic. It happened to be a bit of walnut that his father has been saving for years to make a table top. His father of course blamed me. If only he was more like your Nelson. I don't believe that boy ever gave anybody a mite of trouble since he was born."

"No. Nobly san cay that Nel is a bad boy," said his beaming mother.

Nor could they say anything else. He was the sort that sat in the front seat of the row nearest the teacher's desk and never moved unless told to do so, and then waited to be told HOW.

That sort of child gives nobody any trouble until he grows old enough to be expected to take care of himself and then he furnishes plenty of brain-racking thought to all connected with him. He keeps on being good and nothing else. He is still waiting for orders.

The child who does things with a purpose in mind is the very best kind of a child this world rears. He has a creative mind and hands that back that force to the end. He will be happy and useful, self-supporting and self-sustaining—performing five of the "merely good" throughout the years of his noble life.

Of course he is troublesome. He wants to stir things up and the adults want to let them be. He wants to know how things work and to the adult that is an old story. He is restless and noisy and uncertain and all of those qualities are very annoying to the tired grownups. But they are the breath of life to the child.
